

Progressive Foam Names Midwest Construction & Supply Inc a Preferred Partner

Beach City, Ohio (May 4, 2011) – Progressive Foam Technologies, Inc., the inventor and manufacturer of Fullback® Siding Insulation, has named Midwest Construction & Supply Inc a Preferred Partner to supply its products to homeowners across the state (southern, central and north Iowa and southern Minnesota)

“At Progressive Foam, we view Midwest Construction & Supply Inc. as a key leader in the marketplace, with a firm dedication to bringing quality and exceptional value to homeowners,” said Pat Culpepper, President and Founder of Progressive Foam. Midwest Construction & Supply Inc. solid reputation and commitment to excellence lets them stand out above the rest, making them a perfect Preferred Partner for us.”

As a Preferred Partner, Midwest Construction & Supply Inc now offers the most robust warranty in the industry for siding insulation products. They also will receive specialized training and marketing support.

Progressive Foam’s Fullback® Siding Insulation is rigid insulation, paired with vinyl siding to make the most energy-efficient siding product on the market today. Because the insulation is contoured to fill the gap between the siding and your home, it also delivers added durability, low maintenance and lasting beauty. Midwest Construction & Supply Inc has offered Fullback® products to their customers since 1996.

Paul Despenas Vice President of Marketing “We are excited to be named a Progressive Foam Preferred Partner, and look forward to bringing added value to our customers through this partnership.”)

Midwest Construction has been improving homes in Iowa and southern Minnesota with Quality Products and quality Installation since 1958
